

NRV – Non-Resident Villager

Every Non-Resident Villager (NRV) feels a gentle sense of nostalgia whenever they hear the words “my hometown” or “the village of my forefathers.” As we move forward in our urban lives, it is time to reconnect with the roots that shaped us, to revisit our villages/towns with a renewed sense of belonging, compassion and purpose.

It is important to remember that the growth of our cities is closely linked to the prosperity of our villages. They are the foundation of tomorrow’s India.

For years, the Non-Resident Villager (NRV) movement has played a pivotal role in driving meaningful rural initiatives and will continue to do so in the years ahead. With the support of NRVs, we have installed 28,000+ used computers in more than 18,000 rural schools and installed 6,124 Gyan-key libraries and 760 Fit-key across 7 states till date, helping bridge the digital and educational gap in rural India.

Since NRVs come from the same village, district or region, their connection brings instant trust and removes the need for intermediaries. Together, our local associates are creating awareness and building bridges between opinion leaders and feeder villages across states.

Initiatives like villagewiKY and Gyan-key Fit-key have been possible and successful because of the continued participation and commitment of NRVs who give back to their roots.
